

The NABWMT believes voting is a fundamental pillar of democracy. Every eligible voter should have the opportunity to have their vote count. What's on the ballot can impact your life.

The NABWMT efforts are nonpartisan. None of our communications or activities support or oppose any candidate or political party. But we can inform our members and allies of our values.

Voting is something we can't take for granted. Voters need guidance with some of the following:

- Finding their polling location
- A number to call for assistance
- Learning about their voting options (early, by mail, in person, etc.)
- Understanding what's on the ballot
- The impact of the election on the issues they care about

Vote your Values, the NABWMT provides guidance for you

In the 2026 US midterm elections voters feel concerned about the economy. But the campaign is also being pulled in several other directions, But the campaign is also being pulled in several other directions, from immigration to the Iran war, transgender rights and the growing political fight over data centers.

The Economy

People of Color continue to experience persistent economic disparities in wealth, employment, and income compared to white households, driven by structural inequities and recent labor market. The NABWMT's mission supports legislation to address these inequities.

Health Care

Black, Indigenous, and People of Color (BIPOC) face persistent health care disparities driven by systemic racism, economic inequality, and implicit bias in medical settings. Recent changes in the Affordable Care Act (ACA) and Medicaid have hurt communities of color. A combination of legislative subsidy expirations and active federal crackdowns has reversed enrollment trends, heavily impacting minority populations. The NABWMT supports the World Health Organization definition of health as a fundamental human right.

Transgender Issues

Trans people face severe discrimination, stigma and systemic inequality. The NABWMT supports comprehensive federal non-discrimination law that includes gender identity.

Immigration

Immigration remains another issue, The NABWMT believes all migrants are entitled to basic human rights regardless of their legal status. Although States possess the sovereign right to control their national borders, universal treaties apply to every person within a state's effective control or jurisdiction, meaning all migrants are entitled to basic human rights regardless of their legal status.

Voter Rights

Black voters face sophisticated A.I.-driven disinformation campaigns designed to suppress turnout ahead of the November midterms. The NAACP has released

"propaganda playbooks" to help communities identify fake polling information, AI-generated deepfakes, and voter suppression efforts. The NABWMT has, for decades fight for the vote.

The Iran War

Martin Luther King asked how could a nation spend so much money on a war, when it could not feed or protect its own people? The NABWMT does not support wars that disproportionately affects People of Color.
